WHAT AN INSPIRATION TO THE COMMUNITY CHURCH TO HAVE A CAPACITY AUDIENCE FOR THE CHRISTMAS CANTATA SUNDAY EVENING. THE WEATHER WAS COOPERATIVE WITH TEMPERATURES REMAINING CONSIDERABLY ABOVE FREEZING, AND EVEN THE RAIN SHOWER DURING THE MIDST OF THE SERVICE DID NOT DAMPEN THE SPIRITS OF THE PEOPLE ATTENDING. AN OFFERING OF $750 WAS DONATED FOR THE USHERS, PURCHASING NEW ROBES OR WHATEVER IS NEEDED FOR THE CHORUS MEMBERS AND FRIENDS. I THINK THE CHORAL HYMNBOOK WILL BE IN USE FOR THE FELLOWSHIP HOUR FOLLOWING THE SERVICE.

IF THE GIVING CONTINUES AT THE RATE OF $750 PER WEEK DURING THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, THE OPERATING BUDGET FOR THE CHURCH WILL HAVE AN ADDITIONAL $30,000 TO SPEND OR BE AVAILABLE FOR DEBT PAYMENT OR ANY OTHER NEEDS.

THE WEDDING WAS SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1974, AT 3:30 P.M. AT FOREST LAKE CHURCH, CHATS WORTH, ILLINOIS. REV. CHARLES HALE PERFORMED THE CEREMONY.

Harrington's Daughter, Angela Mills of Chatsworth, served as the junior bridesmaid. She wore a short-sleeved, floor-length burgundy dress trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, ivory waterlilies, burgundy roses, and forget-me-nots.

Thank you to all our subscribers and to those who have renewed their subscriptions.

We hope that none of us will have to think about violence. We must remember that parents have such an important role in helping children develop a sense of values and priorities. We must also remember that, in our country, many of us live in a world that is less safe than it once was. It is more important than ever that we present a message of love and brotherhood to the world, so that they may know that there are other values than hate and violence.

The Bluebirds' Girls' basketball team begins its 1980-81 season with a round robin tournament at Ford Central Dec. 15, 18 and 20. The Bluebirds meet Clifton Central at 6:30 p.m. for the first game of the tournament on Monday night. Members of this year's squad are (front, l-r) coach Don Gibb, Tammy Bryant, Sharon Kassinger, Kelly Lee, Donna Sharp, Becky Weber, Joletta Gardner and Mary Maxson; (rear, l-r) Donita Lowery, Lori Lambert, Beth Gillette, Tracy Kirkpatrick, Joe Rich, Conrie Boruff and Cheri Kistman.

The Chatsworth high school girls basketball season opens its 1980-81 season under the direction of coach, Don Gibb. Gibb is new to the girls' program, but previously coached the boys' junior varsity teams from 1968 to 1979, compiling a 28-5 win-loss record.

The Bluebirds return four letter winners from last year's winning squad, which finished at the varsity level but are working hard and should see extensive action. Three girls, senior forward Donna Sharp, junior guard Joletta Gardner, and sophomore guard Mary Maxson, who played extensive minutes last season, will give additional experience at the guard positions. The Bluebirds begin their season by playing in a round robin tournament at Ford Central Dec. 15, 18, and 20. Chatsworth will meet Clifton Central in the first game at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 15. The Bluebirds will meet Clifton Central in the first game at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 15. Bluebird fans are invited to attend the girls' practice tonight, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. in the high school gym.

The Chatsworth Bluebirds' Invitational Basketball tournament which begins next Monday, Dec. 15, has been announced.

The Bluebirds' Bluebirds meet Clifton Central at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 15 for the first match of the round robin event. That game will be followed by a match between Ford Central and Crescent-Iroquois.

In addition to a competitive conference schedule, such strong non-conference opponents as Odell and Mahomet-Seymour will probably see action at both guard and forward positions.

According to Coach Gibb, the Bluebirds have been concentrating on defense and rebounding since the start of practice just prior to Thanksgiving. He also stated that, while it is not easy for a team to quickly adjust while it is not easy for a team to quickly adjust to a new coach, he has been very pleased with the girls' progress so far.

Hog prices remain higher, but cattle prices fall below expectations

by T. A. Hennessey

Hog prices have remained higher through the fall than expected to meet analysis of livestock prices. The precise data for slaughter during the Sept.-Nov. quarter will not be available until Dec. 10, but the intensity of certain price movements, pork production for the quarter appears to be below that in the fall quarter of 1981. Production is expected to be lower than the previous year with expectations based on the larger pig crop from March through May. The price of hogs averaged $11.00 per hundredweight, compared to $12.05 per hundredweight in the same period last year. This is an increase of 20 percent.

On the other hand, the price of cattle has been below the expectations of most analysts. The average price for choice steers at Omaha was about $16.25 during the Sept.-Nov. period, compared to $16.62 last year. Most analysts expected beef production to increase about two percent and thought that the larger supply would be more than offset by general inflation, producing cattle prices averaging about the low $10.00.

Looking backward, the explanation of the low cattle prices is simple. The number of cattle slaughtered from Sept. through Nov. was about seven percent greater than the year before, and beef production was up six percent. The price impact was offset by the effects of general inflation and by some recovery in meat consumer incomes. It is expected that beef production for the second half of 1981 will be higher than expected prices is not so easy. There was an increase in beef production which helped price demand, but the decline was small. The increase in beef production worked the other way. Part of the explanation may be in retail marketing margins and price specials on pork. Although the price of hogs was up 20 cents, the price of all the principal pork cuts—loin, ham, tenderloin—rose only 10 percent. However, this leaves open the reasons for the sharp increase in beef prices.

The hog market may have benefited from the return of inveterably hard pork prices. At the end of October, there were 40 million hogs on farms in the country. This is 10 percent below the Oct. 1, 1980, inventory. The inventory of freeze hogs at the end of October was 46 million hogs, up 30 percent from last year. This increase in pork prices is expected to affect the supply of pork products in the future and the potential for beef production in the early 1980's.

The rise to the mid-$5.00 range may not take place. On Jan. 1, the hog prices were $5.00. The February futures price was $5.50. The February-Hog prices were $5.75; 3.75. The spread between Jan. and Mar. may not narrow as much as expected.

An opposite pattern may have occurred with cattle. The larger number of beef hogs has narrowed the spread between recent cattle may not continue. For example, the Aug. cattle prices were $4.90. The Aug. cattle prices may not continue to rise as sharply. In Jan. 1, the cattle prices were $5.00. The February futures prices were $5.50. The February-Hog prices were $5.75. 3.75. The spread between Jan. and Mar. may not continue to rise as sharply.

Report reveals rise in child care problems

As the holiday season approaches, so do the concerns of parents trying to care for their children. Illinois is one of the states with the highest rate of child care needs, according to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS). The agency has received reports of child abuse and neglect in the past month, including cases of physical and sexual abuse. In addition, there have been reports of children left alone for long periods of time and exposed to harsh conditions.

Specifically, what did the report reveal? According to the report, the number of child abuse cases has increased by 20% in the past year. Of the cases, almost 80% involve neglect, with the rest being physical, sexual, or emotional abuse. The majority of the cases involve children under the age of 5, with the highest rates occurring in suburban and rural areas.

What can be done to reverse these startling statistics? First and foremost, parents should take an active role in ensuring their child's safety and well-being. They should report any concerns to the proper authorities and ensure that their child is in a safe, nurturing environment.

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) has several programs in place to help parents and caregivers. The agency offers resources and support to parents in need, as well as funding for child care services. In addition, DCFS works with schools and community organizations to ensure that children are receiving the care they need.

The report also highlights the importance of community involvement in addressing child care issues. Local organizations and businesses can support child care providers and caregivers by offering resources and funding.

In conclusion, the report reveals a disturbing trend in child care in Illinois. It is clear that we must act now to address these issues and ensure that all children are receiving the care they need and deserve.

Letters don't mean much until you make understandable words with them. Take the Letters "EFA" and "PCA", for example, to represent certain charges included in our customers' bills. They stand for "Electric Fuel Adjustment" and "Punctual, Reliable Work Adjustment". Simply put, they are additional charges for the electricity you use, and for each at the time of natural gas.

We've been taking our lumps about those holiday time of year is here again. So, when you see the unit charge for "EFA" and "PCA", rest assured that punctual, reliable work DOES!"

THE JAZZ SINGER

By Steve K. Walt

Remakes of old Hollywood classics are an iffy proposition in today's finicky movie market. But, with a major production company investing $15 million in the project and the updated version of the 1927 Al Jolson take-off, "The Jazz Singer," and two showbiz superstars like Neil Diamond and Laurence Olivier, one has to stand up and take notice.

REVIEW

The results of this professional marriage are astonishing. This contemporary version of The Jazz Singer, which zeroes in on Yiddish inflections and Gimbal's family dilemma in choosing a career as a cantor—a family tradition—or alienating his father, is quite different as a musical. Olivier and Diamond play the lead roles with such aplomb that it appears as if this is the role that Neil has been waiting for all his life. Olivier, taking an obvious career gamble in portraying a Jew from the Lower East Side of Manhattan, totally deviates you from his precious-icelike notion of Yiddish inflections. The technical aspects of the film are nearly flawless, with Diamond's original foot-stomping, hand-clapping soundtracks worthy of several Grammy nominations. It could be the best LP of his career. As a rule, I don't usually go overboard in praising movies, but in The Jazz Singer's case, I'm happy to make the exception. Diamond and Olivier are both worthy of Oscar nominations, and it wouldn't surprise me if the film is the Year's Best Picture.

As the story continues to unfold, with Yussel succcessfully achieving fame in Los Angeles under the tutelage of his Gentile manager Moty Bel (Lucien Arnaud), one tends to reach for the tissue box, since Rabinovitch's good fortune is his traditional family ties. Diamond, who has never acted on the big screen before, is a revelation. The follow-through with his Yiddish inflection, which is much more subtle than the original's, is thrilling. In order to maintain this delicate balance, he must do nothing, and he does. Diamond's portrayal of a cantor—a family tradition—is an iffy proposition, but here he is a revelation. He doesn't lose none of the emotional impact.

As a rule, I don't usually go overboard in praising movies, but in The Jazz Singer's case, I'm happy to make the exception. Diamond and Olivier are both worthy of Oscar nominations, and it wouldn't surprise me if the film is the Year's Best Picture. It's that good!

Raging Bull

By J.T. Yuiko

The Raging Bull is based on the life of Jake La Motta, her middletweight champion of the world, his personal struggles, his two marriages, his climb to the top and his quick fall from grace, all the way down to a life of crime in prison. It's a fascinating story, and when you see it with all the hoopla and Hype of the '80s, it's no wonder that the filmmakers have chosen to adapt this story for the screen. The film is based on the best-selling book "The Raging Bull" by Jake La Motta, and is directed by Martin Scorsese.
